

ARTIST # 11

LA MAISON DU WHISKY

MACALLAN 1993 - AGED 27 YEARS

Single Malt Scotch Whisky ▪ Cask Strength 46.8%
Distilled in 1993 – Bottled in 2021 ▪ Aged in Ex-Bourbon Cask
Single Cask ▪ 124 Bottles ▪ 700 ml

Founded in 1956, La Maison du Whisky is one of the leading independent specialists in the distribution of rare whiskies in France and overseas. Selecting spirits has been a fundamental part of La Maison du Whisky's work, a relentless quest for rare casks that has driven our everyday activities. In 2011, our cask selection mission took on a new dimension when we decided to create our own range of independent bottlings: the ARTIST range was born.

For the very first time in its history, a special ARTIST range has been developed exclusively for the American market, with 5 exclusive single cask Single Malt Scotch whiskies, bottled at cask strength in very limited quantities. Featuring some of Scotland's most revered and sought-after names, these casks represent the best whiskies our expert selection team has tasted over the last year.

Founded in 1824 by Alexander Reid, Macallan is one of the first legal distilleries in Scotland. Located in the Speyside, it is known to select only the finest cut during distillation, ensuring its signature mouth-feel and fruity aroma and flavor.

The complexity and richness of this mythical, highly sought-after Single Malt is displayed with great class in this breathtaking bottling.

With a smoothness that evokes a great dessert wine, its aroma and palate shine through with rich character. The finish is remarkable: complex and rich with exotic accents.

Profile: Complex and generous.

Nose: Candied lemon, curry, chestnut, iris and lily flower, vanilla bean.

Palate: Ginger, quince, almond, tobacco, cinnamon bark, white grape, fresh pineapple.

Finish: Chocolate, coffee, black tea, guava, banana, pineapple, verbena, coriander seed.

ARTIST Catherine Ludeau, "Fusion Métal #14"